

Today's Date:

Dear Tucker
(your name)

When I think back to all the amazing things God did during my trip to Nicaragua with Ambassador, I stand amazed.

What an experience it was! I couldn't stop laughing when Sandy said Cinco nom nor My mouth still waters at the thought of eating momones, my favorite food from the trip. But I'm so glad that I never have to eat platanos at home! Yuck! And you'll never believe me when I tell you about ~~that~~ we married this couple in their
how back yard

This experience wasn't just about visiting new places and eating strange foods. God showed up in huge ways. My favorite part about ministry was the joyful children, and I will never forget the way Samuel impacted me so much. I especially loved when we were able to bless Elizabeth by praying for her and her children during their time of hardship. Something I never knew about myself before this experience is I AM A WARRIOR!. I learned that God made me to be a beloved child of his Kingdom

The biggest thing I learned about God and his character is his grace is enough! Because of My trip to Nicaragua, I will never life life the same way.

I could go on and on about all the things I saw, ate, heard, smelled, touched, and experienced on my Ambassador trip. What an incredible journey! One thing's for sure, I will never be the same.

Sincerely,

Tuck